DOOR WRAPPED IN VINYL

FOAMEX ROCKET:

ROCKET CUT
TO SHAPE

Once we have discussed a graphic design scheme and measured up the areas to be covered, we suggest the best material for the process.

Sometimes because of ageing wall conditions it is better to print onto sections of a hard "foamex" plastic which are then screwed to the wall, covering problem areas.

In most cases a specially textured wall vinyl would be used which can be cut around where plugs and other permanent wall features are located. These panels are installed like conventional wallpaper drops although have a small 10 mm overlap to prevent future shrinking. The textured over laminate also provides a lot of scuff protection.

We can incorporate images, background photographs, cartoon style representations into these designs, school logos and mission statements - the list is endless and only limited by the imagination.

TIMELINE CORRIDOR

Similar to interior wall art with regards to the design element but being permanently fixed outdoors, the material choices are different.

We can produce and install PVC banners located in a metal frame creating a drumskin effect. Easily updated and replaced these tend to be suitable for walls with uneven brickwork behind.

exterior wall art

For smooth exterior walls we provide printed outdoor metal panels that are screwed direct to the walls to create the overall design. These can also be attached to railings with different fixings.

Specialist outdoor panels also include magnetic graphics, letters & symbols, drywipe panels and chalkboard panels to create exciting tactile combinations.

Our designers work very closely with schools on their marketing material... to us no two schools are the same, therefore each prospectus should be unique, no templates are used - each document is designed from scratch.

PPS have been designing and producing prospectus material for over 30 years, working with schools and colleges throughout the North West and beyond.

We will bring your prospectus to life with our combination of stunning photography, creative design and high quality print - all guaranteed to create professional looking documents.

With your input and our creativity we can encapsulate your ethos and have an impressive marketing tool for your school.
