pps

PPS was established over 30 years ago in the pre-digital age, following a marketing background in the automotive industry. Initially concentrating within this specialised area PPS provided a wealth of production services to these clients, which developed over the years into numerous other commercial sectors.

Today, PPS have evolved into a creative design and graphics production company. Capitalising on our extensive experience, we now provide a quality, reliable range of services that are both cost effective and professional in approach.

about us...

Every project is undertaken in house from initial consultation, creative design and artwork, professional photography, print and production through to installation by our own qualified fitters. We can advise on all your graphics including a range of portable display equipment, modular exhibitions, extensive signage options and just about any custom brief.

Why not arrange to visit our showroom on the Docklands in Preston to see many of the exciting projects we have been involved with and discuss your own requirements.
